BEST AVAILABLE COPY*Amendments to the Specifications:

The original specification is replaced with the following substitute specification marked up to show changes as an attachment. The prior amendments to the specification have been deleted as shown in the marked up copy.

No new matter has been added as all amendments to the specification were taken directly from the originally filed claims and changed only for purposes of correcting grammar if necessary. The original claims were part of the disclosure and thus their amendment into the specification would not constitute new matter that was not present at the time of filing. Applicant respectfully requests that the amendment of the specification be allowed and the rejection of the claims for lack of support of the specification be removed. The clean copy of the substitute specification that was previously enclosed as an attachment is unchanged.
